Rafa Nadal: What really matters is being happy along the way, not waiting until you reach the finish line Marta Barroso

“Once upon a time, there was a little boy who loved tennis and soccer, just like so many other children in every corner of the world. His name was Rafael, and he was four years old. He spent the whole day kicking a ball around, and sometimes he dreamed about being a professional soccer player.”

Thanks to his modest personality, from an early age the great tennis player Rafa Nadal discovered what really matters, and the values that would be the guiding principles for his life.
