The full version of this book includes an additional Appendix article entitled "Space Invaders" which suggests that all Star Systems, including our own Solar System, are susceptible to Space Invaders, or Space Parasites ... which occupy Star Systems to leverage off of Energy Resources and Energy Reserves. Interestingly, the article suggests that all Star Systems may have been originally designed and created for the purpose of supporting life and consciousness. Additionally, the full version also includes a brief summary on Quantum Theory, which sets up a new theoretical model of the Universe ... where the physical reality actually consists of a multi-dimensional space of many realities -- previously addressed as a "many worlds theory."
