The purpose and substance of this book are in the title. It is obvious that we are conscious and aware of a Supreme Person in our World, and because of the topical and most misguiding debate we often have as to the identity and description of such; I find it necessary and imperative, hence the Title, "Introducing God to You"; to bring the Subject in focus. The book is a 'Thought Process' to readily engage and harness our minds, by reason, to positively and fully confirm the answers we seek. Such an exercise gives satisfaction and confidence to realize and accept individuality; ourselves in relation to Our World. In focus, the prime questions, does God exist, is He a Person, the creator? evolution or creation, are we descended or created? in our quest for answers we experience an inability and feel the need to inquire beyond our scope. Inevitably the Supreme Person comes to mind; some try to avoid what we know and find or make an alternative but not very definitive in purpose. When we accept what is very apparent, that we are created in His likeness and in His image, we have an absolute Personification in God the Creator. We can proceed to understand and classify all that pertain to life, the tangibles and intangibles, today and tomorrow, the whys and wherefores, answers to the fears and aspiration we have, taken us through the future, with the reality that They Are actually Three Persons; God the Father, God the Son and God The Holy Spirit; a factual and visual confirmation to our expectations and hopes that we encounter through our journey. The author, entreat and encourage you, the reader, to realize these benefit from reading this book.
